

THE ZEN COLLECTION

We show families how to find sanctuary in homes that breathe

By engaging one of Australia's leaders in sustainable housing you can be assured of thoughtful sustainable design, high level of inclusions and specialist craftsmanship, with the added incentive of bridging the gap between traditional 'project' home construction and bespoke architectural homes. Our homes have an exceptional level of inclusions and finishes as a base standard that you will find on the market, all with thermal performance and maximum energy efficiency of your home in mind.

Discover the Zen Series

Step inside one of our Zen sanctuaries and immediately soak up the peace and quiet. The Zen is a range that embraces the changes in family dynamics and modern lifestyles for a flexible extension of nature and prosperity. The facade is an integral part of the holistic design approach, low lying roof pitch and cube in appearance with complementary timber cladding and bold block work paired with louvered windows and tropical landscapes. Internally you'll be immersed in tropical gardens, intricate timber features, block work and beautifully crafted rendered feature walls. With an emphasis on an active lifestyle and a desire to connect with the outdoors, the internal layout has you covered with multiple living spaces that both offer privacy and connection, multiple outdoor areas and a vast garden atrium of light engulfing a central focal point of the home. The connection between the open plan living, the outdoor living and spacious gardens really gives you a sense of interconnected space with each individual room given the opportunity to completely open up or cast eye out to the wilderness. The Zen really is resort style living that we all yearn for.
