

DISCOVER THE BONSAI

Looks can be deceiving! In Absolute contrast to the solid box like design of the homes exterior the Bonsai grants maximum openness to the emerging landscape and redefines the concept of indoor outdoor living and takes it to the next level with over thirteen consecutive meters of glass sliding doors and stackable screens that retract back and expose the Dining and Lounge rooms to the natural elements and surrounds. A sunken family chill out zone with overhead skylights sits at the heart of the home and other study, living and family areas pivot from here creating a harmonious functional space for family members to retreat too whilst still maintaining a connection to each other. The square, linear design of this single level dwelling is offset by the Subtle and gentle pitch of the roof gathers height towards the front elevation contributing to the open expanse of the home which is concealed behind the front facade. This uncomplicated but sophisticated home is beautifully landscaped and equipped with a spa, swimming pool and secluded outdoor shower for easy living and entertaining.
