

DISCOVER THE MAUI

Upon entrance The Maui encapsulates a stunning interior garden breezeway with timber flooring that stretches to the living space of polished concrete flooring seeded with white quartz. The bedrooms are situated on either side of the breezeway for division of privacy but also creates a common space for family in the centre. A study space is also branched off with shared connection to the front porch and verandah with lined down the side of the house with pergola. The high cathedral ceilings aid in providing natural ventilation and elevate the spaciousness of the home and highlight a pitched gable with exposed timber beams and VJ living. The open plan living area overlooks the pool and positioned to acts as the perfect social space. The living space also featuring a floating mezzanine breakout space with built in bed nook. In the kitchen has exposed recycled hardwood shelves and skylights, and features a walk-in pantry and access to the courtyard. The backyard is detailed with rounded timber posts and timber pergola that wraps around verandah giving access to the front and rear of home. The exterior of the home is lined with classic weatherboard cladding while also reflecting the coastal contemporary vibe by incorporating colonial windows and doors. The front of the home has a recessed entry way and permeable grassed decorative driveway. The Maui is the heart and soul of the Pacific range of homes through embracing traditional design that already incorporates sustainable benefits.
