

DISCOVER THE SURIN

The Surin's main living area is situated upstairs to elevate the main occupant space and is fitted entirely with stunning timber flooring. The living area spans open to two opposing sheltered decks that expand the interior space and direct natural crossflow ventilation through the home. The absence of walls and use of open plan map further allows the Surin to breathe. The rear verandah is designed to entertain with an outdoor barbeque and dining space for family and guests. A bonus aesthetic feature is this deck poses eastern and western views of the coast and hinterland, sunrise and sun set. This level combines upstairs living with the ultimate master bedroom, walk in robe and ensuite. The ground floor proposes a separate living space with a media room, and additional two bedrooms. This space has been designed in mind with future alterations that can transform this level into a self-contained space. Perfect for a growing family with children that desire a place to retreat and sense of independent space. The Surin also offer space for a double undercover garage. The exterior is constructed classic weatherboard cladding and features raw timber posts that structurally hold the upper level verandah. This home offers a communal living space upstairs to experience eastern and western views and the option to seek refuge and unwind downstairs.
